Create a journal, memorialize pictures of your artwork or visualize a unique purpose for the book. Come ready to learn book making using water color paper. Design by adding texture to the pages using matte medium as a resist. You will use inks, sprays, water color paints, stencils and stamps. The cover of the book will be chipboard with dyed linen, covered with embossing paste. The final finishing is the cover which is a metal piece created from a soda can and colored with Patina paints and embossing powders. This is a 3 X 5 inch 4-4 pages signatures (32pages) created with water color paper. Create the book with a sewn spine. Demos on how to cut soda cans with a die cut machine, cutting and embossing the metal, so that students can see if this is something they would like to use in the future. Precut shapes available for use in classroom.
